ELEPHANT SCARE
DURING
LONDON PAGEANT.

LORD MAYOR'S SHOW
EXCITEMENT.

ANIMALS CHARGE OUTSIDE
KING'S COLLEGE.

FIREWORKS ALARM.

London, Nov. 10.
The four elephants which took part in the Lord Mayor's Show, one of the oldest of London's civil pageants, were the central figures in an untoward incident outside King's College, which fortunately was not attended by really serious consequences, though a number of people suffered slight injuries.

The new Lord Mayor, Sir William Phenix Neal, is a member of the London County Council, and at his request, all Council schools within a radius of a mile and a half of the route of the Lord Mayor's Show were closed to-day.

Children Predominate.

The result of this unexpected holiday was an enormous crowd, unusually composed of children, who witnessed one of the most colourful pageants of the Empire ever staged in London.

Sir Phenix Neal rode through the City in the famous gilt coach, being the central figure in a procession of City dignitaries, soldiers, sailors, bands and representatives of the City Livery Companies.

Elephants Alarmed.

The procession included, for the delight of the onlookers four elephants carrying howdahs representing a Mohammedan building and a Hindu temple, signifying India, complete with gorgeous trappings and Indian attendants.

These elephants were responsible for an unfortunate accident. They were scared by the shouting of the students outside King's College on the Embankment, one of whom was holding a toy lion mascot while others were discharging fireworks.

One of the elephants charged. The students bolted. The mascot was dropped. The elephant seized it and accompanied by the other elephants, followed the scared students and scattered a number of women and children.

Several were trampled upon by the crowd which pressed back on the narrow pavement and were slightly injured.

Return of Own Free Will.

The elephants turned back of their own accord at the entrance to King's College in which the students had disappeared, and returned to the procession, resuming their stately progress as if nothing had happened.

The elephants received the plaudits of the children on the rest of the route who were unaware of the incident.

Other special displays included representations of Canada, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand and the Irish Free State.

Great crowds watched the passage, lining the whole route from the Guildhall to the Law Courts. — Reuter and British Wireless.

Premier at Guildhall.

Later. In a speech at the Guildhall, the Prime Minister outlined the tremendous problems connected with the causes of unemployment.

He said that new sources of production must be found and a vast improvement in our marketing must be undertaken.

The Dominions, by mutually advantageous agreement with us, must join hands to lay economic foundations worthy of our common spiritual inheritance.

This heavy task could not be done by witches, wizards, or jerry-builders; it must enlist the co-operation of the most practical intelligence and business experience. Britain, said the Premier, had no cause for pessimism. She was endowed with skill, resources and reputation. — Reuter and British Wireless.

SHOCKING CRIME
BY SAVAGES.

MISSIONARY'S FAMILY SLAUGHTERED.

BRAZILIAN TRAGEDY.

New York, Nov. 10.
A shocking crime, presumably perpetrated by South American Indians in the heart of Brazil, is reported in a cable from Brazil by an Irish missionary named McDowell, who announces the slaughter of an American missionary's family, his wife alone escaping.

The victims were

Arthur Tylee,
His infant daughter,
Miss Ethel Kratz, who was acting as nurse to the child.

The outrage was presumably committed by Indians at the isolated Mission Station near Juruena, which is three weeks' journey by ox-team from the nearest centre of civilisation.

Mr. McDowell reports that Mrs. Tylee was wounded, but is recovering.

No details of the massacre are forthcoming, but it is known that the district is peopled by Indians, who are little more than naked savages, armed with poisoned arrows. — Reuter's American Service.

COLONIAL NAVAL DEFENCE.

NEW SCHEME SHORTLY TO BE INTRODUCED.

London, Nov. 10.
The text has been issued of a Bill to be presented in the House of Lords by Lord Passfield, the Secretary for the Colonies, to amend the Colonial Naval Defence Acts.

The Bill will empower the Legislature of any Colony, with the approval of H.M. the King, to make provision, at the expense of the Colony, for maintaining and using war vessels.

Such vessels and their personnel may be placed at the King's disposal for general service with the Royal Navy. — Reuter.

THE NEW BRAZILIAN GOVERNMENT.

TO RESPECT ALL EXISTING OBLIGATIONS.

London, Nov. 10.
Replies to questions in the House of Commons, Mr. Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, said the new Brazilian Government had informed the British Ambassador that it will respect all existing treaties, public debts, contracts and other legally-enacted obligations.

His Majesty's Government had informed the Brazilian Government that it considered that the recent change of Government in Brazil in no wise affects Anglo-Brazilian diplomatic relations. — Reuter.

BRITISH LEGATION
IN CHINA.

NO CHANGE INDICATED AT PRESENT.

London, Nov. 10.
In the House of Commons, replying to a question as to whether His Majesty's Minister was arranging to reside in Nanking, Mr. Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, said the Minister visits the capital from time to time, while a Counsellor of the Legation divides his time between Nanking and Shanghai, and is constantly in touch with the National Government. — Reuter.

THE ROUND TABLE CONFERENCE.

DESPATCH TO BE PUBLISHED ON THURSDAY.

London, Nov. 10.
The Secretary for India, Mr. Wedgwood Benn, informed the House of Commons to-day that the Government of India's despatch on constitutional questions would be made available to members of the Round Table Conference and members of Parliament next Thursday. It would be published

ARMISTICE DAY IN HONGKONG.

IMPRESSIVE SCENE AT THE CENOTAPH.

ANGLICAN AND CATHOLIC CHURCH SERVICES.

POPPY DAY EFFORT.

Added impressiveness was given to the Cenotaph ceremony, which to-day marked Hongkong's chief observance of Armistice Day, by bringing the proceedings into line with those in London. Instead of the official religious service being held at the Cathedral, it was incorporated in the Cenotaph ceremony, and no-one who attended could fail to be deeply moved by the solemnity of the occasion.

There was, however, an unofficial service at St. John's Cathedral, prior to the main ceremony, this being attended by His Excellency the Governor, whilst a Catholic service was held at St. Joseph's Church.

On behalf of the British Legion funds, the annual street sale of Flanders poppies was held, there being no lack of helpers either in Kowloon or on the island. This afternoon, a charity football match, the Services v. The Rest, is taking place on the Club ground at Happy Valley, when H.E. the Governor will kick off at 4 p.m.

AT THE CENOTAPH.

A Solemn and Impressive Ceremony.

Two Minutes' Silence, a community hymn, prayer and a blessing. Short yet impressive. Such was the form of Hongkong's Cenotaph ceremony to-day, a ceremony that is more than an official recognition of the Armistice that ceased the world turmoil 12 years ago. It is a remembrance and respect of those who did not come back from the turmoil.

Soon after 10 a.m. troops began massing in the vicinity of the Cenotaph and at 10.45, the square was filled with orderly ranks of the Services, representatives of foreign armies and navies, consular services, Volunteer detachments, former Naval and Military nurses, the E.A.S.M.A., R.A.O.B., Girl Guides, Boy Scouts, St. John Ambulance Brigade and the Philharmonic Choir.

Standing on the south side of the Cenotaph in front of the Supreme Court were members of the Executive and Legislative Councils, Indian orderly officers, and the A. D. C. to His Excellency the Governor, and the General. The choir was stationed to the west of the Cenotaph.

Governor's Arrival.

At 10.52, the clergy, who had robed in the Supreme Court, took up their positions in front of the choir, and were followed immediately by His Excellency the Governor (Sir William Peel), the General Officer Commanding (Major-General Sandilands), and the Commodore (Capt. A. H. Walker) who stood on the south side of the Cenotaph.

While His Excellency was taking his position, the pipers of the 2nd Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders played the lament "Flower of the Forest," from their post in front of the Hongkong Club.

Officers came to the salute when the "Last Post" was sounded by the Somerset Light Infantry buglers.

The Silence.

One gun fired from one of the men o' war in the harbour at 11 a.m. exactly, marked the beginning of the Silence. Not a sound was heard while the concourse of people in the square stood with heads bowed. Another gun signified its conclusion, and after "Reveille" had been sounded, the troops stood at ease.

The departure from the usual Armistice Day celebration was mainly in the religious service that followed. The Philharmonic Choir led the gathering in the singing of the hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past."

Commemoration Prayer.

Rev. E. G. Powell, the recently arrived Minister of the Union Church, Hongkong, offered a commemoration prayer of his own

DO.X FLYINGBOAT
AT CALSHOT.

FLIGHT FROM AMSTERDAM
IN FOUR HOURS.

PLANS FOR ATLANTIC.

London, Nov. 10.
A fleet of fifty aeroplanes and seaplanes, looking like gnats beside the eagle-like German airliner, the Do.X, met the great ship outside the Isle of Wight and escorted her to Calshot where she alighted on the water superbly.

The Do.X landed at Calshot at 3.37 p.m. just under four hours after taking off from the Zuider Zee.

She was taken by R. A. F. tenders to a special mooring buoy.

Official Welcome.

Air Vice-Marshal Lambe, on behalf of the Air Minister, Lord Amulree, and other officials of the Air Ministry, together with representatives of the German Embassy in London, welcome Claude Dornier, the designer of the plane.

Colonel the Master of Sempill has invited Herr Dornier to be his guest during the stay of the Do.X at Calshot.

The giant flying boat left Amsterdam at 10.30 a.m. on her flight

MRS. BRUCE DELAYS DEPARTURE.

Prospects of Bad Weather Ahead.

TO LEAVE TO-MORROW.

Contrary to expectations, the Hon. Mrs. Victor Bruce did not take off for Amyo this morning, much to the disappointment of a large number of people who had gone over to Kai Tak Aerodrome to witness her departure. She is not leaving until to-morrow.

The reason for the delay is that reports indicate that if she left this morning, she would run into bad weather, including strong head winds, fog, low-lying clouds and possibly rain.

According to present arrangements, she hopes to hop off at about 10 a.m. to-morrow.

A Reuter's message from Foochow says Mrs. Bruce will not be calling there, as the local aerodrome is not suitable.

to Calshot but returned, owing to engine trouble which revealed itself soon after the boat left the water. She started off again at 11.45 a.m.

She carried a crew of fifteen, including ten Germans, two Swiss and three Americans.

Many Passengers.

There were twenty-one passengers, eight of whom were Germans, including the designer, Herr Dornier, and his wife, also three Americans, one Englishwoman (Lady Drummond Hay), six Dutch (of whom one is a woman), and two Dutch flying officers, two Italian officers and one Yugo-Slav officer.

She carried two tons of reserve material aboard for repairs en route; ten thousand litres of petrol and three hundred litres of oil, sufficient for a flight nine and a half hours.

The Atlantic Trip.

In the actual trans-Atlantic flight for which the plane carries a large amount of mail, only a few journalists will participate, most of the carrying capacity being used for fuel reserves amounting to 20 tons.

At the Azores and Bermuda landings will be made for refuelling. The fuel consumption per hour for the twelve water-cooled Curtiss motors aggregating 7,200 h.p. is approximately 400 gallons, giving the plane a speed of 200 kilometres per hour.

Herr Dornier has announced that the flight was to be regarded as a last thorough-going trial under all sorts of conditions and that should it prove satisfactory, a regular trans-Atlantic service with heavier-than-air craft will be organized next year by a German-American corporation. — Reuter and British Wireless.

FINAL SESSION ON THURSDAY.

MANY CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES DEALT WITH.

NATIONAL STATUS.

London, Nov. 10.
The Imperial Conference is now nearing the end of its work, and there is a possibility of the final plenary session being held on Thursday. Good progress has been made with the consideration, by the heads of the delegations, of the reports submitted to them by the Committees and Sub-Committees of the Conference.

A large number of these reports were considered and approved this afternoon, and on the economic side it now only remains for the heads to examine the series of reports prepared by the various Sub-Committees set up by the Committee presided over by the President of the Board of Trade, Mr. W. G. Locker-Lampson, former Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, asked whether the new paper statements were true that a large sum was being handed over to the Chinese Government for the Canton-Hankow Railway, against the advice of the 1929 Advisory Committee.

Mr. J. E. Mills (Lab. Dartford) asked if the reason for the re-nunciation of the indemnity was soon as time could be found.

EUROPEAN FINED FOR OBSTRUCTION.

DID NOT PARK WITHIN THE WHITE LINES.

Mr. T. H. G. Brayfield was summoned before Mr. Butters, at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday, for having caused obstruction in Salisbury Road by parking his car
across the white lines, on October 16.

The defendant pleaded "not guilty" and protested against certain irregularities in the summons. The police, he said, had entirely failed to carry out certain regulations. He had drawn the attention of the Chief Justice in the higher court of the Colony to that fact. He referred to the delay of eleven days. The offence occurred on October 16, and eleven days elapsed before the summons was signed, and another eleven days before it was delivered, and that at his office.

Mr. Butters: In Hongkong?

Defendant: Obviously, in Hongkong. There is a clause in the summons which reads that it should be left at the abode of the person summoned. My residence is at Tai Po and not at Queen's Road, Hongkong.

Mr. Butters: Were you in your office when the summons was delivered?

The defendant: No. That is my chief objection. I am here to attend a summons, which has been left at the wrong place and not at my residence.

Mr. Butters: As for the delay,
the police are not to be blamed.
If anybody is to be blamed it is the Magistracy. In the present instance, the summons could not have been served earlier owing to the number of summonses which had to be issued.

The defendant: I would ask you that in view of the fact that there is no attempt to provide a parking space at the Ferry circus, and owing to your over-ruling my objection, that I propose to apply for leave to appeal and for the case to be re-heard in a higher court.

Mr. Butters: On what grounds
do you propose to appeal?

The defendant: On the grounds of wrongful service of the summons.

Mr. Butters: You can bring the question of appeal up later, if it does arises.

Sergeant's Evidence.

Traffic Sergeant Clarke said that about 11.20 p.m. on October 16, he was on patrol duty in Salisbury Road. Outside the Kowloon
godown gate he saw private car
No. 324 parked over the white lines at the extreme end of the parking space. About 11.50 p.m. he went to the same place again and saw the car still there. He applied for a summons, and informed Mr.
Brayfield on the telephone that he would be summoned. There was nobody in the car at the time.

The defendant maintained that under the Vehicles and Traffic Regulations, if a car was slightly outside the white lines, but did not obstruct vehicles or persons on the road, then there was no offence.

Sergeant Clarke pointed out that the parking space there had been changed, and that there was new parking space just outside the fire station.

The defendant: But it is still in use. My car is there even today.

Mr. Butters (to Sergeant Clarke): Are people still allowed to park their cars there?—Yes, but inside the white lines.

The defendant: The police are permitting people to park their cars there. Then there can be no offence.

Mr. Butters: The police say that you did not park within the white lines. Are you proceeding further in your questions?

The defendant: No.

Mr. Butters: I am going to convict. Fined $10. Do you want to appeal?

Defendant: Yes.

Mr. Butters: Then, I think you will have to appeal in writing,
you have got a week before you
to do it.

FUNDS FOR MISSION TO LEOPERS.

CONCERT ARRANGED FOR TO-MORROW NIGHT.

For many years past considerable relief work has been carried on for Chinese lepers by various missionary societies, which have resulted in some care and attention being given to these human outcasts without, however, doing much to wards helping to eradicate or diminish the scourge in this country where lepers are estimated to be as many as one million
in number.

Until recently no national organisation has ever existed in the vast country of China for those afflicted with this dreadful malady, but with the recent discovery that the majority of lepers, whose condition is not too far gone in the disease, may be cured or at least their condition greatly ameliorated
by a special treatment, renewed and widespread efforts are being made throughout the world for the relief of the unfortunate sufferers.

The American Mission to Lepers, whose General Secretary, Mr. W.
Danner, visited China five years ago, takes an active interest in the great and important work of ridding the world of leprosy, and its activities at other centres inspired a number of influential and well-known Chinese gentlemen in Shanghai to establish a national organisation under the name of the Chinese Mission to Lepers which now has its headquarters at 20 Museum Road, Shanghai.

Hongkong Aid.

The Hongkong Auxiliary of the Chinese Mission to Lepers, while co-operating in the general work throughout China, is directing a great deal of its attention to the support of the Takkam Island Lepper Colony which is situated some 60 miles south west of Hongkong. Excellent work is being done
there by Rev. John Lake who was aided by his late wife who died in July, 1928.
Or what was the uninhabited side of a pirate island, in two "units," or villages (one for leper men and boys, and one for leper women and girls) seventeen buildings of brick and stone with reinforced concrete roofs have been erected;
and the eighteenth is nearly completed. These include a hospital proper, a combined house of worship, an administration building for each of the two units, and fourteen dormitories.

At first a few lepers were placed on the island, in temporary buildings like the buildings that had to be erected for the hundred or more workmen; but with the completion of the first "unit" of fifteen buildings, about fifty lepers from each of two receiving stations were taken in the hospital boat to the island in December, 1928. Others have since joined the first hundred,
and over two hundred more are now on the waiting list, and will be accommodated as soon as funds for construction of new buildings make it possible.

Dr. P. J. Todd of Canton, after curing a Christian leper, trained him to give the Chaulmoogra oil treatment, and this ex-leper is now one of the loyal and faithful assistants of the trained doctor at Tai-Kam Island whose salary is furnished by the Hongkong Auxiliary of the Chinese Mission to Lepers.

To assist the work, the Hongkong Auxiliary has arranged a concert to be held in the Theatre Royal to-morrow night. A number of well-known people are assisting, and the programme is
as follows:

IG—GNOME—INIOUS.

The children had been learning
a poem about fairies and gnomes
when the teacher asked:

"Who knows what a gnome is?"
There was silence for a while.
Then one little boy answered.

"The place where you live with your mother and father, miss!"

Just a little matter of a missing aspirate. But it takes considerably more than an aspirate to make home home in the truest sense of the word. It takes harmony, love and above all, health, for both adults and young ones. In so many homes, the children, who ought to be the source of life's greatest joys, are mother's chiefest burden and anxiety on account of ill-health.

In homes such as these Baby's Own Tablets would prove a boon and a blessing. Mothers all over the world have written expressing their gratitude for this splendid medicine for the children.
Everywhere parents are turning from the old-fashioned crude remedies, and are finding in this product of modern science the perfect health regulator for the very young which parents have waited so long. Baby's Own Tablets have been designed especially for the use of infants and young children by highly qualified medical authorities, and the various ingredients, all absolutely pure and guaranteed harmless, are dispensed in the accepted ideal ratio for the correction of infantile indigestion, colic, constipation, and stomach
and bowel troubles generally.
The tablets check diarrhoea, expel worms, allay fever, colds and croup. Perfectly safe for the youngest baby, they are invaluable during teeth, easing the teeth and thus, quite naturally, inducing sound sleep. Mothers
you MUST keep Baby's Own Tablets handy. Get a bottle from your chemist to-day.

FASHION NOTES.

Hats and Scarves.

Chenille and string embroidery trim many brimmed hats, and chenille is crocheted into berets and bonnets as well as brimmed hats.

Velvet ribbon, two or three strands of it, in as many colours, makes one of the favourite trimmings for Paris hats this autumn. Velvet flowers are tucked under the brim, or tacked to the crowns of some Paris millinery.

Millinery colours, too, are stimulating. If your costume is in a rich warm shade, you will probably choose your hat in the same colour, and you may add a bit of vivid trimming if you want to.

A cerise or port-wine red hat may tone up a sombre ensemble. Green hats, and hats of dull orange will be good, and black and white hats will be legion.

Hats of turquoise velvet strike a new note with black clothes, and bright blues hats are smart, and pretty, too. Lots of pretty hair is being shown all around the new very small Paris bonnet, which barely covers half the head.

The Triangular Neckchief.

The triangular neckchief is far from banished. It appears as a smart scarf element in tailored suits, with a large open-work monogram placed in the corner which is usually set over the right shoulder.

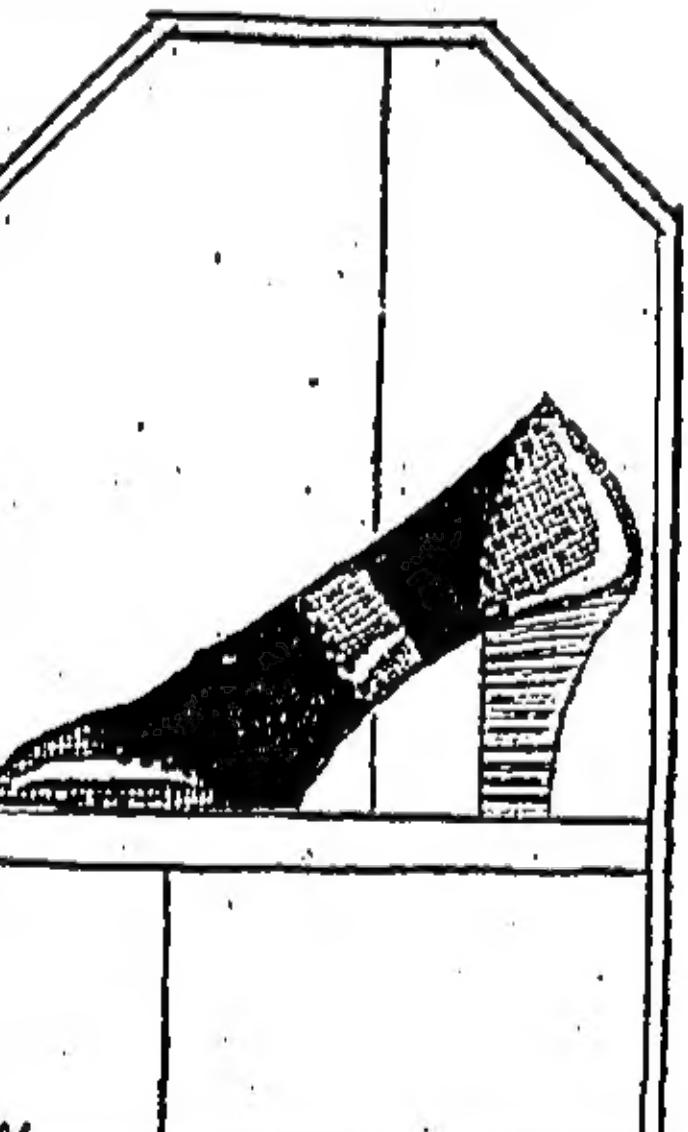

A new use for this triangular scarf has been devised; it is used in an evening ensemble and is made of the fabric of the frock, such as taffetas, for instance.

Again, a long, a narrow, chiffon scarf is used to match the evening frock, which is draped low round the shoulders, and tied lightly at the front, giving an inconspicuous fichu effect.

Among the new scarves presented for the autumn, there are many long, narrow ones in kashatulla, as well as in fleecy, light jerseys and kasha.

Stripes dominate, and they are seen in beige, brown, red and white. Bright colours will be used for winter scarves. This idea is made emphatic in beautiful tulip-kasha prints, as well as in tricot weaves, which have striped borders to a blanket pattern in the body of the scarf.

A Smart Touch.

This type of walking pump with leather heel is the smartest shoe to wear with cloth or country and in town. It is fashioned of dark brown suede and the same tone of calf.

EXCOMMUNICATED FOR THREE YEARS.VICAR TURNS OFF THE LIGHTS.

The ban of excommunication for three years has been placed by the Rev. E. A. Merryweather, Vicar of Pelton, Chester-le-Street, on two men and a woman who gave evidence at a recent consistory court when the vicar was ordered to remove certain ornaments from the church. The names were given out from the pulpit.

Making the announcement before his sermon the vicar said that "certain individuals" who went to the consistory court told lies and committed perjury.

"That sort of thing is very serious and a person who commits perjury in a court of law can be sentenced to seven years' imprisonment.

"I shall have to expel them from the congregations of the church for three years. I ask all Christian people, all church people especially, to treat these men and that woman as heathens and publicans.

"If they enter the church after this morning the service will be stopped until they go."

The excommunicated persons turned up at the evening service and the vicar turned off the lights, refusing to conduct the service. The persons concerned and other protesters sat in the darkened church until eight o'clock, when they dispersed.

TUESDAY, NOV. 11. 1930.

REMEMBRANCE DAY.

To-day, we pause for a while in our daily duties to call to mind the sacrifice made on the field of war by those brave men who answered the call of their country and gave their lives for a great cause. Whilst we mourn the dead, the living who suffered disablement in the Great War are still with us. Rightly enough, therefore, we see to it that on this Day of Remembrance some help shall be given to these victims of the World War. Here in Hongkong, as in thousands of other centres throughout the world, our streets are made bright with the scarlet of Flanders Poppies, and by the purchase of these we can, each and all of us, help a cause which needs no recommendation. It has well been said that this wearing of the scarlet poppy is a practical tribute, for the millions of individual payments made for these emblems provides the British Legion with the funds which permit the carrying out of work of the first importance in alleviating distress suffered by ex-Service men and their families, as well as the widows and children of those who fell.

There may be those who wonder why at this period, more than ten years after the Great War, it is still necessary for the Legion to make an annual appeal to the public. Briefly, the reason is to be found in the fact that at the present time the British Legion finds it as much an impossibility as it was in 1921 to meet in full the just claims for assistance made upon it by distressed ex-Service men and their families, and the widows and children of men who fell in the War.

It might be asked why ample provision for these war-sufferers is not made by the Government, particularly when it is remembered that the expenditure of the Ministry of Pensions last year amounted to as much as £56,732,000. The difficulty is, however, that hard and fast rules have to be framed to govern the administration of public money, and the inevitable result is a lack of elasticity which produces many thousands of hard cases. With regard to the income from the Poppy Day appeal, the first charge is the cost of manufacture of the poppies and poppy wreaths. This, in comparison with other charges, is relatively high, but it has to be remembered that the manufacture of these poppies and wreaths gives all the year round employment to nearly 350 severely disabled ex-Service men in the Legion's Poppy

Factory at Richmond, and at Lady Haig's Poppy Factory in Edinburgh. At these institutions, one sees an embodiment of that spirit which carried the British soldier through the long years of war—cheerfulness in adversity, and sufferings optimistically borne, coupled with infinite satisfaction in having a job of work to do.

It is well to emphasise also that in the distribution of its funds for benevolent purposes, the Legion maintains organised employment bureaux for ex-Service men, provides assistance and advice on pension matters, assists ex-Service families to emigrate, helps with the children's education, and grants loans free of interest to ex-Service men who wish to commence business on their own account. Thus it will be seen that when, here in Hongkong, we buy our Flanders Poppies we are helping forward a great work and giving a practical application to our remembrance of those who fell in the war. At no time in its history has the British Legion greater need for help than the present. For this reason, and because of the really magnificent work it is doing, we are hoping that Hongkong's effort to-day will eclipse all previous records.

Australia's Difficulties.

Mr. Scullin's courageous stand against those of his party who see a short cut to financial equilibrium in a policy of debt, reputation, or compulsory postponement of redemptions, should give a wholesome impetus to a recovery of confidence. The fiscal troubles of Australia arise chiefly from overborrowing, but, as Mr. Scullin fully realises, nothing but ill would result from any attempt to escape her obligations. Nothing remains to be done but to carry out the policy of wholesale retrenchment recommended by an independent diagnostician, Sir Otto Niemeyer, including the abandonment of foreign borrowing, and a restriction of internal borrowing. Such a programme is the only possible course if budgets are to be balanced, and though it may go against the grain with a Labour Government seeking to improve social service, the new Government's close adherence to these principles is in itself a high tribute to its earnestness in the public cause. The new tariffs and the economy programme will probably involve a radical reduction in the standard of living. The level has hitherto been maintained by continuous borrowing abroad, and the decision to eliminate such loans will reduce the annual income by some £30,000,000. Add to this a reduction in the value of exports, occasioned by the heavy slump in commodity prices of over £40,000,000, and it is not difficult to accept the expert opinion that the country is faced with a decline in living standards as high as twenty per cent. The Labour groups, particularly in New South Wales, are strongly resisting this development, but the Prime Minister's attitude reflects the general spirit of the country which favoured a serious attempt to live on Australia's own resources. This is the only way if Australia is to emerge from the present crisis with her basic strength unimpaired.

WORLD MENACE
OF WAR.RUSSIAN DELEGATE ASSAULTS
FRANCE.

Attacking the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission, Maxim Litvinoff, the Russian delegate, declared to-day that the world faces grave menaces of war. The Soviet spokesman especially assailed France and those who demand security before disarmament as dangerous enemies to peace. "It is no wonder," he stated, "that among the countries which were the loudest in the demand for security guarantees were some in which the chiefs of the military staffs were at the same time devising and carrying out plans for the provocation of war with their neighbours."

The speaker demanded that the commission drop the word "disarmament" and use instead "limitation and reduction of armaments."

During her stay in Hongkong, Mrs. Victor Bruce has been provided with the use of a Hillman straight eight motor car, the property of Mr. P. Tester, who very kindly placed it at her disposal.

Captain Dollar and Mr. Steen will then leave for Shanghai aboard the N.Y.K. liner Haruna Maru on Friday afternoon.

I don't believe the place possesses such a thing as a thin-opener, that accursed instrument which has brought the average inn to its present abomination; or, if it has one, it keeps it as an "exhibit" in place of warming-pans and blackjacks. Except fish, bread, and such foreign fruits as banana and orange, everything that appears on its table comes from within a few yards of the kitchen.

Here is an inn whose owner has

THOMAS BURKE discovers
THE IDEAL INN.

AFTER years of hopeful, and, in the later stages, exasperated, search, I have found it—the English inn as it should be.

It is not a country hotel. It is not filled with warming-pans and ingle-nooks and oak settles nor is it furnished from the best Wigmore-street designs. It has never received Queen Elizabeth or Charles Dickens, and it is not one of the ruins that Cromwell knocked about.

Plainly An Inn.

It hasn't a hall-porter or a headwaiter, and no specimen, imprisoned behind a counter, of the Ferox (or natural) reception clerk. It hasn't got running water in every bedroom and it doesn't charge 7s. 6d. for a single room and 6s. 6d. for a bad dinner; and it displays outside none of those runnes and abracadabras which warn the really experienced roadman to go elsewhere.

No; it is plainly an inn, casual but efficient. It is small. It is clean and tidy. It is in the remote country, and on a hillside, but you do not go to bed with guttering candles, or bathe in a six-inch-deep bath—it has its own electric light plant, and a bathroom supplied by its own pumping plant. It has a garden and a skittle alley. It has good beds, and—seal of its perfection—it has what scarcely any country hotel has—a sound kitchen and a more than sound cook.

It is kept by a man who has taken as his motto, "First Things First," and he has perceived that the first business of an inn is not to supply legends and curios and all that nonsense which some people call "romance," but to supply good rest and good food.

And how he does it! What a table he spreads for the gourmet. If the inns of England approached even near to his standard we should hear no more talk of the superiority of French inn-meals. The Food Is English.

I don't believe the place possesses such a thing as a thin-opener, that accursed instrument which has brought the average inn to its present abomination; or, if it has one, it keeps it as an "exhibit" in place of warming-pans and blackjacks. Except fish, bread, and such foreign fruits as banana and orange, everything that appears on its table comes from within a few yards of the kitchen.

More—all the solid and, impalpable charm of this inn is to be had at about half what you pay in the standardised places, where the chicken tastes like the fish and the fish like the meat.

I remember another touch of skilled direction. The inn has four bedrooms, which sometimes means eight guests. In a small inn this might lead to dining-room discomfort, but the host sees that it doesn't. There are two small dining-rooms, and he arranges that one party dines in each room at 7.30, and one in each room at 8.30. Thus each party dines in privacy.

BITTER SPEECH AT GENEVA.

LOST DISARMAMENT ILLUSIONS.

GERMANY ABSTAINS ON A CONSCRIPTION VOTE.

ROME BLAMES PARIS.

Geneva, Nov. 10.
A revision of Article One of the Draft Convention, providing that the annual service in conscription countries shall not exceed a period to be fixed later by the Final Disarmament Conference, was to-day approved by the Preparatory Disarmament Commission, without dissentient.

Nineteen delegates voted for the motion, Germany and Russia abstaining.

On Friday, a German resolution seeking to fix the total period of compulsory service was rejected by 12 votes to six, Britain and the United States being among the abstainers.—Reuters

Lively Sitting.

Further details of the lively sitting at the opening session of the Conference show that the dispute between M. Litvinoff and M. Loudon was the culminating point in a stormy session, the first excitement having been caused by a motion by Lord Robert Cecil, rejecting the idea of a general debate on disarmament and demanding instead that every point which the commission had discussed on previous occasions be taken up once more and debated one by one.

German Protest.

Count Bernstorff thereupon pointed out that the commission had constantly departed from the principles laid down at the beginning when an actual diminution of armaments was aimed at and that unless this aim was persevered in, Germany must refuse to accept the resulting agreement.

Count Bernstorff further declared that this was not the time to speak of illusions for after five years of conversations on disarmament without any actual progress having been attained, the nations of the world had lost any illusions they may have had at the beginning. Even in the past eighteen months no practical progress had been accomplished in spite of the London naval pact negotiations.

Nothing Being Done.

He also reminded the commission of the fact that the agenda of the present session contained a German motion demanding the full and open publication of the actual present state of armament and indicated that he had instructions from his government to demand the earliest possible convening of the final disarmament conference for it was clear that a good part of the uneasiness disturbing the world to-day was due to the fact that nothing was being done in the way of actual disarmament.

M. Litvinoff opposed further futile talk and declared that the Soviet Union demanded an effective reduction by 50 per cent. of all present armament and that the words "limitation of armaments" in the official text be replaced by "reduction of armaments."

Anti-France Views in Italy.

Meanwhile, Popolo d'Italia asserts that France is the only obstacle to the holding of the disarmament conference and to a rescuing of the revision problem from its present dismal rut.

The paper insists that "security" is not a monopoly of France and her satellites, but that all nations have the right and duty to safeguard their security. Furthermore the Popolo d'Italia, reflecting the editorial opinion of all its contemporaries declares that the majority of the victor states, including Great Britain, the United States and Italy, support Germany, Hungary, Austria and Bulgaria's plea for disarmament as laid down in the Versailles treaty, the persistent violation of which by France, the paper declares, automatically renders it null and void.

Passenger who left for the President Madison to-day included the Rev. A. R. Kepler, head of the Church of Christ Convention, returning to Shanghai from a visit to Canton; Dr. A. L. Wanshui, the Secretary of the International Missionary Council, returning to Shanghai with his wife; Mr. T. R. Scanlon, Oriental Representative of the Sunmaid Raisin Co., traveling to Shanghai; Mrs. G. A. Harman, on a pleasure trip to Japan; and Mr. Loh Ying-ho, silk merchant in Canton, on a business trip to the U. S. A. with his wife.

composition. This was in the following terms:

"All loving and everlasting God, through whom and in whom we live, and to whom there are no dead, we, Thy children, rejoice that Thou hast called us to share with Thee in the world's redemption and deliverance.

"We praise Thee for those who, in answer to that call, for their country's sake and on behalf of freedom and justice among the nations, have been faithful unto death, and especially for such as we remember before Thee this day with love and honour.

"For those, through whose sacrifice we live, who gave themselves mightily in defence of Liberty and good faith amongst the nations, and were slain in the glory of their strength, we praise Thee O Lord, for their unrecorded valour, unnoticed heroism, uncomplaining devotion, and for their true comradeship, and undaunted gaiety of spirit.

"For memories that abide in our hearts, and Love that still quickens our faith, calling us to their unfinished tasks, we thank Thee, O Lord.

"We beseech Thee, that we may have grace to live worthily, seeking further peace on earth and goodwill among men as becometh those who are bought with a great price, that, being sanctified by their influence though all in our earthly days, we may greet them in the Land of the Living with faces unashamed and souls exultant, through Jesus Christ our Lord.—AMEN."

After a short blessing, the community joined in the singing of the National Anthem.

His Excellency laid a wreath on the Cenotaph on behalf of Hongkong, and he was followed in procession by the General Officer Commanding, the Commodore Officer commanding the R. A. F., and then by representatives of foreign navies and armies, the Royal Merchant Navies, consular bodies, members of the Councils and other bodies, and private individuals.

His Excellency left at 11.20 and was followed by the clergy and the troops.

AT CHINESE MONUMENT.

Wreaths Laid by Governor and Others.

No less impressive was the ceremony of laying the wreaths at the Memorial in the Botanical Gardens, erected by the Imperial War Graves Commission in memory of Chinese who died in the service of the British Government through enemy action during the Great War. Immediately following the ceremony at the Cenotaph, His Excellency the Governor, H. E. Excellency the Officer Commanding, Commodore Walker, Squadron Leader Freeman (representing the Military, Naval and Air Forces) with officers of their respective staffs, proceeded to the Chinese Memorial, being met there and escorted up the steps by two Chinese Council representatives (Hon. Sir Shouson Chow and Hon. Dr. S. W. Tso).

Around the Memorial were already gathered the principal Government officials and members of the Legislative Council, Chinese representative of the Hospitals, Po Leung Kuk, District Watchmen's Committee, Compradores' Association, South China Athletic Association, and others. A detachment of Chinese Sappers from the Royal Engineers, and another detachment from the Chinese Company of the Police Reserve were also present.

Buglers from the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders sounded the Last Post and Reveille, this being followed by the laying of wreaths by His Excellency the Governor, and others present. A wreath was also laid in the name of the Chinese community, the British Legion and the Ex-Active Service Men's Association.

CATHEDRAL SERVICE.

Rev. H. V. Koop on Dangers of Peace.

"There is an inclination for too much prayer that we may be kept from danger and not sufficient of Christ's own recklessness and conquering cry 'Thy will be done', with which he went unarmed into the jaws of death," said the Rev. H. V. Koop, in the course of his Armistice Day message delivered at the St. John's Cathedral service this morning, when he pleaded for willingness on the part of men to suffer hardship and danger in the cause of peace, as it was endured in the cause of war.

The service, conducted by the Very Rev. Dean Swann, assisted by the Revs. Walton Rogers, C. B. Shann, N. V. Halvard, Frank Short and E. G. Powell, was attended by a large congregation, including His Excellency Sir William and Lady Peel, who were accompanied by Capt. Colman (A.D.C.) and Mr. G. W. A. Tufton (Private Secretary). Members of the Executive and Legislative Councils, military representatives and the Hongkong Girl Guides were also present.

Special prayers and responses were offered by the Dean, and the hymns sung were "O Beautiful my country," "O Valiant Hearts," "These Things shall be," and "Rise up, O men of God."

But we owe it to the dead to make the best of the Peace that they made possible for us and to exhibit the same courage and self-sacrifice in the trials of peace as

DANGEROUS SALIENT.

CONTINUAL MENACE TO BRITISH INDIA.

Calcutta, Oct. 11.

Commenting on the situation on the North-West Frontier the Statesman, in a leading article, points out that tribal territory is unfortunately close to Peshawar.

The main road from Peshawar to Kohat runs through no man's land; no motor-car can traverse the Kohat Pass section after 3 p.m., and the tribesmen have their own rifle factory by the roadside. The paper adds that it is a farce as well as a sorry situation that no one—not even the Viceroy and Commander-in-Chief on a tour of inspection, nor an ordinary citizen engaged in trade—can travel 40 miles from Peshawar by road in British India to Kohat, also in British India, without passing a hostile rifle factory.

To avoid this country the railway makes a detour of 150 miles. Kohat lies practically due south of Peshawar, and the area between is cut clean across by a salient of tribal territory running from west to east—one of the most awkward intrusions into British India imaginable.

West of this salient in Tirah are some turbulent Afridis, who can menace either Peshawar, by moving along the valley of the Bara River where the tribal frontier comes within about a dozen miles of the city, or Kohat, by removing long ago it is difficult to explain, but one would find it hard to believe that it would not soon yield to resolute treatment. It is not a large affair, and, until told by someone in authority that the gossip now circulated from Simla suggesting that it might cost thirty crores of rupees ($750,000) has some foundation, one cannot accept the estimate.

There is already at Parachinar a cantonment on the western flank of Tirah. What seems to be required is another post in Tirah itself and a road linking it with Peshawar as well as a Peshawar-Kohat road. That and the complete destruction of the influence of the Hadji of Turangzai would be immediate necessities.

They did in those of war. This is the spirit in which to celebrate Armistice Day—to draw inspiration and strength from its memories to carry on the work of re-establishing order out of the chaos left by the war.

They therefore had to go forward prepared to suffer these things gladly for the realisation of true and lasting peace and the coming of Christ's Kingdom.

ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH.

Father O'Brien on Problems of Peace.

Armistice Day was observed in St. Joseph's Church by a solemn service at 9 a.m. A Requiem Mass for the repose of the souls of the soldiers who fell in the War was said by the Military Chaplain, the Rev. J. J. O'Brien, appropriate motets being rendered by a choir of priests from the Catholic Cathedral.

Parties of students from the upper forms of the Catholic Schools of Hongkong were present and the Catholic community of Hongkong was largely represented.

After the Mass, the Rev. Fr. O'Brien preached. He said—

"For those of us who went through the War years and took some part, however small, in the great struggle, this day comes with memories and we scarcely need a preacher to marshal them for us. Time has softened those memories and taken the sting out of their pain. We keep this day of remembrance not to perpetuate enmities and misunderstandings, not to apportion blame and responsibility, but to honour our glorious dead, and, by recalling to mind the awful holocaust of those years, to strengthen our will to make possible the peaceful settlement of future disputes. We realise now more than ever before that fathers, mothers, wives and children of all the belligerent nations suffered the same pain in their bereavements, and we see the world-wide efforts being made to render us remote as can be the possibility of such a war in the future. The celebration of this Day then should encourage us to support every worthy movement aimed at the establishment of world peace so as not to render vain the sacrifice of those whose memory we keep to-day."

Tribute To Troops.

One last word: don't limit your gratitude to the defenders of your country to one celebration a year. You in this Colony have an opportunity every day of doing honour to their memory: their successors are the soldiers of the present day, every bit as worthy of respect, gratitude and confidence as were the heroes of the Great War. When trouble threatens they are the first there to defend your life, liberties and goods. A newspaper hard up for copy may blazon forth the peccadilloes of the soldier and so give an entirely false impression of a fine body of men. The publicity given to such minor delinquencies is disproportionate and unfair and should be reduced to its true perspective in the minds of the public by the remembrance of the kindly, courteous and gallant attitude of the average soldier of the Garrison. All he asks in return is an equally considerate attitude on the part of the public.

In conclusion let us thank God for all His blessings and ask Him to fill with true wisdom the minds of those who are now guiding the destinies of Nations so that present problems may be solved and the highest good for all may be achieved.

Peace Problems.

If Peace has her victories no less renowned than War, so has Peace her problems little less desperate than those of War. To-day we can ask ourselves if we are facing those problems with the courage and tenacity of purpose of the heroes of the Great War? There has been a tendency to rest on the laurels gained in the war and to let the problems of peace look after themselves.

But we owe it to the dead to

LORD LLOYD SUED.

TAXI-CAB OWNER'S CLAIM FAILS.

Lord Lloyd was sued at Marylebone County Court recently by Henry Charles Culley, a taxi-cab proprietor, of Oxford-gardens, W., for £39 8s. 6d., damages to a taxi-cab.

Mr. Paul Bennett, who appeared for Mr. Culley, said that the accident happened about 11.30 p.m. Mr. Culley's taxi-cab was driving along Pall Mall when a car which was stationary opposite the Carlton Club suddenly pulled out without warning, colliding with the taxi-cab and causing it to collide with another car.

Charles Culley, father of the plaintiff, said that he was driving the taxi-cab and was thrown through the windscreen. He did not see the private car until it was a length away.

Lord Lloyd, giving evidence, said that his chauffeur had been with him for five years and had driven him in all parts of the world. Previously he had been employed by Lord Allenby in Palestine.

Evan Lewis, the chauffeur, said that the taxi-cab struck his car just as he was moving. He had put out his hand before pulling out. That was his first accident.

He declared that the accident would have happened if he had not pulled out.

George Alfred Dussey, Lord Beaverbrook's chauffeur, said that there was a crash and he caught a glimpse of the taxi-cab striking Lord Lloyd's car. The taxi-cab then swerved, crashed into the back of Lord Beaverbrook's car, receded, and turned on its side.

James Fentimen, Lord Melchett's chauffeur, said that he was waiting for Lord Melchett to leave the Carlton Club.

Mr. Bennett.—You chauffeurs, whose employers are members of the Carlton Club, all know one another; there is a fellow feeling about you?—Yes, that's right.

Mr. Engelbach, for Lord Lloyd, said that Lewis had a record probably as good as that of any chauffeur in the world.

The jury found that Lord Lloyd's chauffeur had not been negligent and gave judgment for Lord Lloyd, with costs.

ed constitutional position of all members of the Commonwealth in relation to one another that any alteration in the law touching the succession to the Throne of the Royal styles and titles shall hereafter require the assent of the Parliaments of all the Dominions as well as of the Parliament of the United Kingdom.

Legislation to give effect to the various proposals indicated above will not be introduced in the British Parliament until requests have been received from the Dominions, and the suggested schedule of dates for receiving such requests will permit of legislation becoming effective on December 1st of next year. Another important question discussed at to-day's meeting was that of appeals to the Privy Council. On this subject it is understood that the heads make no recommendation.—British Wireless.

Radiant Warmth and Perfect Ventilation

RADIANT warmth, just like that of the sun; perfect ventilation, an atmosphere as fresh and as pleasant as that of the open air on a sunny spring morning—these the modern gas fire brings wherever it glows. That is why doctors use and recommend gas fires; that is why they are found in hospitals, nursing homes and clinics everywhere.

Scientists have proved that modern gas fire warmth is like sun-warmth—healthy, good for you, radiating beneficial infra-red rays.

They have also proved that while the gas fire warms it provides a perfect system of ventilation.

There are no fumes from the modern gas fire. There are products of combustion, of course, as there are from any living flame. But these products immediately pass up the chimney or flue. As they rise they cause a gentle upward flow of used air from the room—a system of ventilation more perfect even than that of the open window. That is why a gas-warmed room is never stuffy.

TAKING POWER FROM THE OCEAN.

PRACTICABILITY OF PLAN DOUBTED.

Some doubt as to the practicability of the experiment of Prof. Georges Claude, French scientist who on Oct. 6 gave a demonstration of his ability to make variations of Gulf Stream temperatures produce electrical energy, has been expressed by Dr. Luciano de Goicochea, dean of the department of electrical engineering of the University of Havana.

Professor Claude made 40 500-candlepower bulbs glow for half an hour with energy produced from sea water temperature variations. It was his first demonstration before other men of natural science, and the Frenchman was hailed as the pioneer of a great new movement which might revolutionize industrial power methods.

"My opinion," Dr. Goicochea said, "is that there seems to be some doubt as to the possibility of Professor Claude's production of cheap power—the chief advantage sought by the inventor.

"Let us consider the matter on the basis of press reports which state that he has been able to light 40 bulbs of 500 candle power each, which is equivalent to an energy of 25 to 30 horsepower. Is this the maximum capacity of Professor Claude's plant?

"If the 30 horsepower obtained is the maximum to be obtained by the Matanzas plant, consider the cost of a plant powerful enough to supply a city requiring 40,000 horsepower for its electrical needs.

"Examining the question from another point of view, one must consider the security of the installation of power. The enormous and costly pipe laid in the depths of the Caribbean Sea, for instance, may not have the solidity to resist periodical submarine currents.

"If points such as these can be resolved, there is no doubt that Professor Claude's invention will be of immediate positive utility. If not, we have witnessed an admirable experiment which must await, like others of its kind, an opportunity to put it to practical use."

Professor Claude recently told the Associated Press that he could not, with the plant he now has near Matanzas, produce a surplus of power. The energy used in starting the great pumps which draw sea water from a depth of 2,000 feet is extraneous, and must be discounted, he said, from the total produced.

THE CANTON GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

MR. R. K. BATCHELOR WINS THE FINAL.

Canton, Nov. 10.

Mr. R. K. Batchelor won the Golf Championship here yesterday when he defeated Mr. C. E. Sandstrom by 4 and 2 over 26 holes on the Tung Shan Recreation Club's course.

In the semi-finals, played a week ago, Mr. Batchelor had defeated Mr. A. T. Lay 3 and 2, whilst Mr. Sandstrom had defeated Mr. McCosh-Clark on the 19th green.

Yesterday's final was very evenly disputed. Mr. Sandstrom was two up at the fourth, but failed to retain his lead. At the 16th they were all square, but Mr. Batchelor took the 17th and 18th, making him two up at the fifth interval.

Resuming play in the afternoon, Mr. Batchelor holed his approach shot to halve the 19th, and Mr. Sandstrom again pulled up to get all square on the 23rd. However, he again failed to hold his opponent and was two up at the 27th. At the 28th, Mr. Batchelor again holed his approach shot for a three, to make him three up. He increased his lead to be four up at the 34th, on which green he won the match.

The Capstan Cup, for the best medal score, returned over 18 holes during September and October, was won by Mr. J. W. Platt, who returned a card of 92 less 16 handicap, net 66.—Our Own Correspondent.

CLOSE LAWN BOWLS MATCH.

KOWLOON DOCK BEAT YACHT CLUB BY ONE SHOT.

The Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Recreation Club were at home on Sunday to a team of lawn bowlers from the Royal Hongkong Yacht Club.

The "boat sailors" got well away at the start but the "boat builders" kept hammering away to bring the combined scores almost level at the ten interval. They eventually won the match by one shot.

The ladies of both clubs turned out in good numbers to watch the "teet" and Mrs. R. M. Dyer, whose husband is Vice-Commander of the Yacht Club this year, presented the Yacht Club spoons to the winning side.

THAT SILVER LOAN TO CHINA.

ANOTHER VERSION OF THE PROPOSALS.

THE JUDGE WAS LATE.

Recommendation for an international loan of several hundred million ounces of silver to China is under consideration by the Senate Sub-Committee on Foreign Relations, it was revealed at Salt Lake City on Oct. 8, by Key Pittman of Nevada, its chairman.

The loan, he said, would be a means of stabilizing oriental trade and the pacification of China.

Addressing the Salt Lake Chamber of Commerce, he reported the tentative findings of the sub-committee, which has held hearings in Washington and principal Pacific coast cities on commercial relations with China. Testimony of bankers, manufacturers, exporters, importers and others familiar with the political and commercial history of China was heard.

"The committee is considering the recommendation, through its report to the Senate, of a plan to pacify China, finance the National Government, and place the 450,000,000 of Chinese people in the peaceful pursuits of industry rather than the destructive enterprise of war," Mr. Pittman said.

"Some constructive action is essential," the Nevada Senator declared, "because our exports to China, including wheat, lumber, automobiles and other manufactures, have fallen off over 50 per cent. in the last seven or eight months.

Joint Lending Commission.

"The plan anticipates the joint action of China, Great Britain, France, Japan, the United States and other interested governments. A silver pool would be organized by such governments, making available several hundred million ounces of silver to the Chinese National Government as and when needed for peaceful purposes as approved by a joint commission of such lending powers.

"The agreement would probably have to contain certain provisions that would bring the four dominant war lords of China, who now control vast armies and areas, into the national Government to participate in its administration; the advances of loans so made to be measured in ounces, and not in values and to be repaid, principal and interest, in ounces of silver.

"According to the testimony of witnesses qualified to express an opinion, such a plan would be agreeable to the National Government and four war lords and the people of China. The plan, in the opinion of such witnesses, would result in the immediate pacification of China, the establishment of control of the National Government over the whole of China, the opening up of the vast interior and the revivification of all industry.

"Such an accomplishment, so witnesses testify, would increase our commerce with China tenfold, would consume almost immediately our entire surplus of wheat and would greatly reduce our surplus of lumber, automobiles and other manufactures.

China, under such conditions, it is contended by all of such witnesses, could use more silver than is now available from the total production of all of the mines producing silver in the world.

"This would naturally have a tendency to increase the price of silver and the purchasing power of that metal, which is the only money or purchasing medium of China, as well as merely other countries. Such increase in the purchasing price of silver would increase the purchasing power of all other countries, to the great benefit of our exports.

"The price of silver, of course, would change, but it would range within smaller limits, and such demand would undoubtedly hold the price and purchasing power of silver throughout the world at such a limit as to insure prosperity in China and all other silver-using countries.

"Of course, after the Senate has approved a resolution containing any such plan, it would then have to go to the President of the United States to be consummated into an agreement if the plan met his approval."

ATOM DESCRIBED AS 'SOCIAL COLONY.'

URGE TO KEEP ELECTRON BALANCE.

Describing at Chicago the "modern meaning of matter," Dr. W. Lee Lewis, discoverer of Lewisite gas, said the theory was no longer held that atoms are indivisible hard spheres and that the nuclei of the atoms seem to be the "last stand of matter in the old sense."

Far from being a hermit, the new atom, as it is now viewed, is a little social colony, a perfect vacuumed space filled with negative electrons tearing wildly at dizzy speeds in systematic orbits about a positive nucleus.

"The typical atom demands eight electrons and it just isn't satisfied until it gets them," Dr. Lewis, who is director of research for the Institute of American Meat Packers, reported in his lecture before the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern University.

"Around the nucleus of a particular atom, in definite ascending levels," he said, "revolve that number of electrons which is just equal to the positive charges on the nucleus. All atoms are, therefore, electrically balanced system, and it is these planetary electrons which give to an element its mechanical properties, its reactivity.

"But why do two or more atoms unite with each other to form a molecule if they are already balanced electrically? One of the reasons is that they have a peculiar urge to accomplish a certain arrangement of their electrons. These electrons, which move about the nucleus, do so in layers, as it were, and it usually happens in building up the atom that the outer circle will not contain a desired number of valence electrons, in the simpler cases eight.

"It is not apparent just why the atom wants eight valence electrons in its outer circle, but it will do almost anything to accomplish this end. It seems to respond to a deep-seated architectural urge.

"Similarly if a typical atom has only seven electrons in its outer circle, it will seek an eighth. If another atom has only one electron in its outer circle, it will seek to get rid of it because that is the quickest way to get down to the comfortable circle of eight electrons in the next lower zone.

"The atom will tend to take off or take up electrons according to which course is the shorter route to a complete octet on its outside. . . . Two atoms will pool their supply of outer electrons in such a manner that they have eight between them."

NEW SUBMARINE VALLEY.

FOUND OFF NEW ENGLAND COAST.

Discovery of a submarine valley below the general level of the continental shelf off the New England coast is announced by the Boston office of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey.

The discovery is the result of hydrographic survey of Georges Bank which is being made on behalf of the shipping industries of the North Atlantic seaboard. The two vessels engaged in the work, the Lydonia and the Oceanographer, have just returned to the Charlestown Navy Yard having completed their work for the season.

Georges Bank is off the New England coast, located partly on one of the world's most important fishing banks and directly on the westbound transatlantic steamship lane between Europe and the United States. The survey covers an area extending seaward for a distance of some 200 miles and comprising about 15,000 square miles. It is a region of strong and irregular currents, frequent storms and is covered by fog more than half the time.

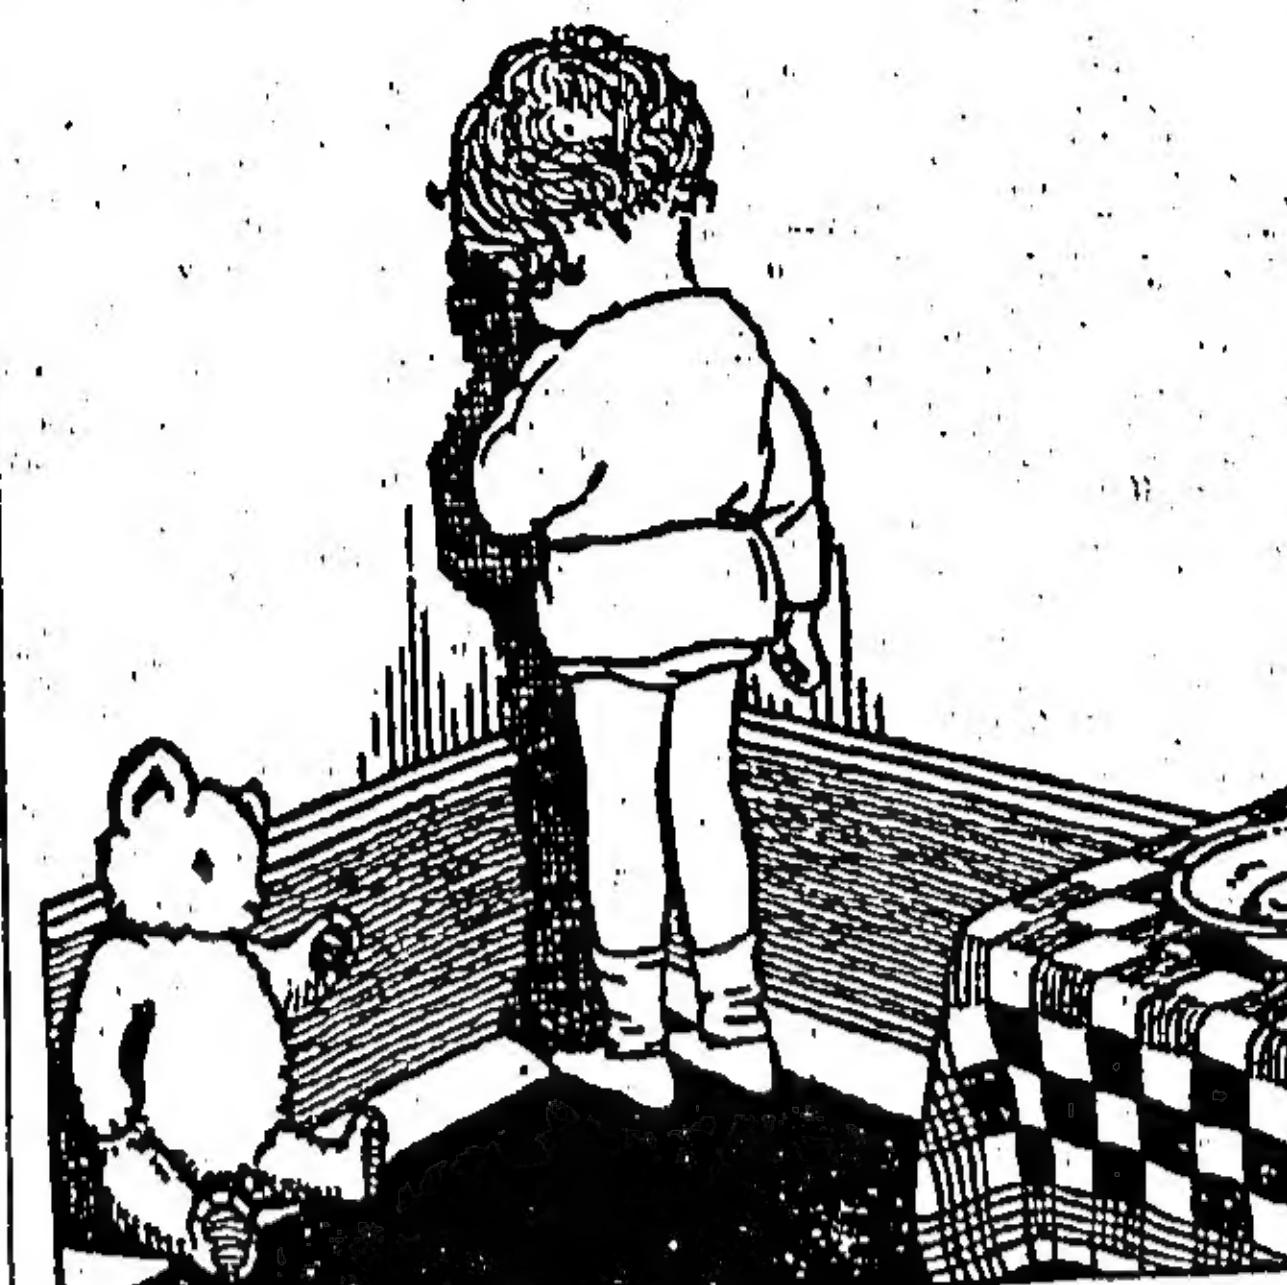

The mouth of this newly discovered submarine valley, which is two miles in width, lies in latitude 41.20 degrees north and longitude 66.10 degrees west and extends in a north-northwesterly direction for a distance of about eight miles. The floor of the valley lies about 300 fathoms below the general level of the continental shelf. Forthcoming charts of this feature will provide mariners with a valuable submarine landmark, as it is ideally oriented with respect to the general trend of the continental shelf for fixing a ship's position.

Navigators to-day are equipped with modern apparatus and accurate charts, so they are no longer required to slow down speed in such areas. The lead and sounding lines of old have mostly been replaced by mechanical sounding devices whereby a continuous record of the depths over which a vessel is passing, is recorded in the pilot house.

With modern charts showing the configuration of the bottom, it is easy to determine the position of the ship, even in weather that would render other methods useless.

NANKING VICTORY FOLLOWED UP.

ROUNDING UP THE ARMY OF KUOMINCHUN.

Shanghai, Nov. 10. Stressing the need for a rigid reduction of taxation in Shensi, formerly administered by the Kuominchun Government, General Ho Ying-ching, the Nationalist General officer commanding the Nanking forces along the Peking-Hankow Railway, said this morning, in a press interview at Cheng-chow, that the most pathetic scenes of starvation and famine were witnessed during his recent tour of Shensi. At Sianfu he was interviewed by representatives of the Chamber of Commerce who advocated an immediate decrease in the exorbitant taxation, expressing the fear that continuation of the heavy imports reduce Shensi commerce to a state of complete stagnation.

General Ho Ying-ching said that he would present the view of the Shensi merchants to Nanking, supporting their plea for the curtailment of taxation. Commenting on disbandment, General Ho stated that all the Kuominchun remnants along the Lung-Hai Railway had either been disbanded or dispersed, and Nanking was most confident of the complete suppression of the Kuominchun troops in north-western China.

An Appeal to Nanking.

Peking, Nov. 10. Following the air raid on Taiyuanfu on November 8, in which a number of casualties were suffered, Shang Chen has wired to Ho Ying-ching requesting him to ask Nanking to stop such raids for the sake of the civilian population.

The Manchurian air forces which are expected here are stated by the vernacular papers to be on the way, and are due to-morrow.

LOCAL BRANCH OF SOCIETY TO BE FORMED.

It is announced by advertisement in another column of this issue that the inaugural meeting of the League of Nations Society in Hongkong is to be held on Wednesday, November 26, at 5.30 p.m. in St. John's Cathedral Hall.

The aim of the Society is to educate and make effective public opinion in the Colony concerning the League of Nations. Branches of the Society exist in all parts of the world and it is felt that here in Hongkong, with such a cosmopolitan community, wide scope exists to interest people in all the work that is being done at Geneva and elsewhere by the League of Nations for the promotion of world peace and the combatting of social evils.

FORMOSAN REVOLT.

SUICIDE OF RINGLEADER CONFIRMED.

Tokyo, Nov. 10. According to official despatches the latest engagement between Japanese troops and Formosan tribesmen resulted in the loss of 16 Japanese killed.

It is officially confirmed that Ichiro Hanaoka, the ringleader of the revolt, committed suicide.

About 40 enemy dead have been discovered, while the latest figures of Japanese victims of the recent massacre show a total of 122 known dead and 17 still missing.—Reuter.

CLUB SECOND TEAM DEFEAT THE Y.M.C.A.

Although enjoying the better of the exchanges, the Y.M.C.A. suffered defeat at the hands of the Club second string, whom they entertained yesterday at King's Park, the visitors securing the odd goal in three. The game was featured by the clever custodianship of Borrowman in the Club goal: He saved the visitors time and again in the second half, when the Y.M. were doing all the attacking, and the Club owe it to him that they succeeded in securing the honours.

All three goals were scored in the first half, Major Kerrick and E. C. Fincher doing the needful for the Club and T. J. Price retaliating with a really fine shot for the Y.M.

F. Atyeo, in the homester's goal, was perhaps not seen at his best. The home side were the better team in the second half, but found Borrowman ready to frustrate every move. It was an excellent game.

WORKMEN ASSAULTED WITH KNIVES.

Convicted of a serious assault on four workmen employed by a building contractor on the Praya East, two Chinese, who appeared before Mr. Williams at the Central Police Court yesterday afternoon, were each sentenced to six months' hard labour.

The defendants, together with three or four others, were said to have gone to a matshed on the reclamation on the evening of October 26 whilst the workmen were having their meal. The intruders were armed with knives and, without warning, set upon their victims, injuring four of the men in various parts of the body. The assailants decamped, but the following day were arrested on information, they being known to the fokis of the matshed. It was alleged that on previous occasions the workmen had been approached by certain men who demanded payment of money from them and advised them to join a society.

There was an element of the triad Society in the case, but it was not definitely disclosed what the object of the attack was. It was thought that the trouble arose between members of two rival societies.

CHINESE KNOCKED DOWN BY BUS.

MISHAP IN CANTON ROAD LAST NIGHT.

A motor bus while proceeding along Canton Road on the way to Shamshui po at 9.15 last night, was involved in an accident resulting in rather serious injuries for a Chinese who was struck by the running board.

The driver told the Police that he first saw the man about ten feet away, walking almost in the centre of the roadway. Instead of crossing over immediately to his side of the road, the man, who was carrying a child in his arms, zig-zagged as if undecided. Finally, after swerving from one side of the road to the other, in attempting to dodge the pedestrian, the bus went over to the right, but could not altogether avoid the man, who was struck down by the running board, and suffered rather severe injuries to his left leg and arm. The little boy whom he was carrying was thrown clear and was uninjured.

The injured man, a licensed hawker, was later conveyed to hospital in an ambulance.

Heart Hungry

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN
AUTHOR OF "SASH ECRU"

BEGIN HERE TO-DAY.

Celia Mitchell, 17, faces a new life when she leaves the home in Baltimore where she has lived with her seamstress mother, Margaret Rogers, to join her father, John Mitchell, and her grandmother in a stately New York home.

The girl had not even known her father was living until the day he came to the Baltimore apartment. Celia had supposed him to be her father, and it was to be her father, that she offered Celia a life of wealth, and immediately everything changed. She leaves her mother, unaware that Margaret Rogers is a young newspaper photographer, who wears the same dress he and Celia will be married.

The girl is lonely and ill at ease in New York. Her aristocratic grandmother criticizes her, and she is even more ill at ease.

He calls on Mrs. Evelyn Parsons, a beautiful widow whose husband had been Mitchell's close friend. Mrs. Parsons agreed eagerly to introduce Celia to the right set of young people, but her interest is clearly in Mitchell himself and not in the girl.

CHAPTER XVI

"You will let her come, won't you?" Mrs. Parsons leaned forward, smiling eagerly as she spoke.

She was sitting in one of the gilt and brocade chairs in the drawing room of the Mitchell home facing Mrs. Thomas Worthington Mitchell. It was the afternoon following Mitchell's visit at Evelyn Parsons' apartment. The two women were alone in the vast room and the youthful looking widow did just state the object of her call.

Mrs. Mitchell frowned, cleared her throat. Before she could speak, Evelyn hurried on.

"Take me shopping?"

"Why, yes." Mitchell spoke easily. "I hear you're invited to Long Island for the weekend. Mother has a mission board meeting to-morrow, and Mrs. Parsons kindly offered to take you on a tour of the shops. Buy up a few things you'll need in the country."

"Is Long Island country?" Celia wanted to know. "I thought it was—very fashionable."

"I suppose there's no harm," Mrs. Mitchell agreed, "so long as her father thinks it's all right."

"But he does! And really, Mrs. Mitchell, you mustn't tie yourself down here in this hot city just because of—well, this new responsibility. I think it's wonderful of you, but you're too self-sacrificing."

Mrs. Mitchell shrugged her shoulder.

"Nonsense. I'm only trying to do the right thing by John's daughter. I guess she can go down with you for the weekend. Can she drive down in your car?"

Evelyn Parsons nodded.

"That's just what I've planned," she said. "I'll stop here for her about 11 o'clock Saturday morning and I'll see that she's back safely Monday. Now you mustn't have a restless moment."

"I won't worry," Mrs. Mitchell said firmly. "I'm not the worrying kind. Of course I hope she'll have herself here. You haven't even seen her yet."

"But, Mrs. Mitchell."

The older woman went to a table and touched a bell. A moment passed and then Edward appeared in the doorway.

"Did you ring, madam?"

"Yes, Edward. Send Martha to ask Miss Celia to come here."

Edward departed with this message. Mrs. Parsons fanned herself gently with a folded sheet of paper. She wore an inconspicuous frock of black with white lace at the throat. Her broad-brimmed hat was black also. The costume was gauged to meet the dignified Mrs. Mitchell's approval.

"There was no trouble," she said quietly, "about—the girl's mother?"

The elder woman's back stiffened. "You mean about bringing Celia here? I should think not! That creature made her bed—let her lie in it."

Evelyn Parsons' lashes lowered demurely. She looked all innocence as her purring voice continued:

"You didn't approve of the marriage, then?"

"Approve!" The vehemence of the word was unmistakable. "Approve? No, I didn't. And John Mitchell's been paying for his foolishness ever since." After that—

Mrs. Mitchell's words were not finished. Standing in the doorway, hesitating to enter the room, appeared a girlish figure.

"Come in, Celia," her grandmother said quickly. "I want you to meet Mrs. Parsons. Mrs. Parsons, this is my granddaughter."

Celia hurried toward them.

"You pretty child!" Evelyn Parsons' uplifted face glowed with sweetness. She took the girl's hand in both her own, pressing it warmly.

"Oh, yes! I'll be ready!"

Edward carried the packages into the house. For two hours after that Celia had a fashion show, trying on first one costume and then another, parading before her mirrors. She did all this in the privacy of her own room. Once as she saw her reflection in the evening frock which was her favorite—a pink net with tiny cap sleeves and ruffled skirt stiffened with blue ribbons—her lips moved unconsciously.

"I—I'm glad to meet you," Celia said, hoping she did not show the confusion she felt.

"Sit down, Celia," her grandmother prompted.

The girl took the nearest chair.

Mrs. Mitchell coughed. She said,

"Mrs. Parsons has brought you an

CINEMA NOTES.

GRETA GARBO HAS TRAGIC
ROLE IN "THE KISS."

Tired business men and wife-awake business men will be equally entertained with "The Kiss." Greta Garbo's new starring vehicle which is showing at the Queen's Theatre.

Every effort was made by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to furnish Miss Garbo with a story, director and supporting cast equal to her position as one of the foremost screen actresses in America, and the results have been more than satisfactory.

Jacques Feyder, noted French director who produced Raquel Meller's "Carmen" and other artistic successes, was brought from France to write and direct a story for Miss Garbo. He wrote a Continental drama which gives the celebrated actress every opportunity to display her talent as a tragedienne.

Feyder incorporated his European camera-technique into the picture, blending it with American methods and mechanics. His amazing camera angles and lighting effects are not too distorted to intrude on the movement of his story. There are few stilted situations in the film. The camera sweeps about in a wide circle; springs suddenly upon the characters through closed doors; walks with them and follows them through keyholes. Audiences are due for a pleasant surprise as a result of Feyder's technique.

Miss Garbo is fascinating in the tragic role of Irene Guarri, and is little less than magnificent in a powerful scene in which jealousy brings disaster to the French society family.

Conrad Nagel plays opposite Miss Garbo in the role of attorney and gives his usual finished performance. Anders Randolf as the suspicious husband gives an accurate portrayal of an unsympathetic role. The fact that you are glad to see him killed is a tribute to his acting. Law Ayres, a new face to the screen, attracts considerable attention as Miss Garbo's lover, a role played skillfully.

"The Florencia Girl."

Marion Davies, who spent the last few months in bustles, puffed sleeves and dust-gathering skirts during the making of her picture of the Gay Nineties, "The Florencia Girl," hated to come "back to earth" when the picture was completed.

Miss Davies thinks there is a lot to say for the picturesqueness of New York's history when a woman was considered "fast" if she were caught smoking behind the palms which decorated society's ballrooms.

"We have so many modern things today which we really don't appreciate or enjoy," the star confided in a recent interview. "In 1910, an automobile ride was a sensational event. Pedalling on bicycles 'built for two' and winter larks on sleigh rides were considered great outings to say nothing of a trip to old Coney Island and Station Island picnics.

"I don't know why it is, but people today don't seem to have the fun those of the past generation had. I can't say I prefer a hansom cab to a limousine or oil lamps to electric lights, but the old atmosphere did seem more genuine and wholesome than we find today in our modern world of artificially in almost everything but breathing."

A large supporting cast will be seen with Miss Davies in "The Florencia Girl" which will be shown on Wednesday at the Queen's Theatre. Playing opposite the star is Lawrence Gray, while other roles are filled by Walter Catlett, Louis J. Barts, Nancy O'Neill, Claude Allister, like Chas. Vivian Oakland, Sam Hardy and Ted Prouty.

The picture was filmed from an original story by Gene Markey and was directed by Harry Beaumont.

Central's Next Offering.

For the second time in her life, Mary Eaton has been "glorified." (Continued on Next Column.)

She resolved to sit down at once and write her mother about the gorgeous purchases and her new friend, Mrs. Parsons. Before the letter was finished, however, it was time for Celia to dress for dinner and after that, for some reason, the letter was not finished.

"I'll drive down Sunday afternoon and bring you back," Mitchell told the girl as they sat with Mrs. Mitchell discussing the week-end plans.

"Why, John," his mother cut in. "I didn't know you were going!"

"Oh, Evelyn thought it might make it a little pleasanter for Celia. You see all the others there will be strangers."

"I suppose so."

"Couldn't you go with us to-morrow?" Celia asked.

"No—afraid I couldn't get away to do that." Her father shook his head. "Evelyn's stopping for you, head?"

"Yes. At 11 o'clock."

It was 10 minutes after that hour when Evelyn Parsons' motor car stopped before the Mitchell home. Evelyn went up the steps. Before she could ring the bell Celia had the door open.

"Oh, good morning, Mrs. Parsons! Come in. I'm all ready!"

Mrs. Mitchell emerged from behind Celia. Edward carried the luggage out and stowed it in the car. Then Celia gave her grandmother a dutiful kiss. They were about to leave when Mrs. Mitchell called to Evelyn to look at a clipping from a newspaper social column.

It was just then that Martha appeared in the hallway. She caught Celia's eye and hurried toward the girl.

"For you!" Martha whispered. Celia felt something being pressed into her hand.

"Oh, mother," Celia whispered.

"Mrs. Parsons has brought you an

WILL OF DUKE OF NORTHUMBERLAND.

$1,255,000 IN DEATH DUTIES.

The Duke of Northumberland, of Alnwick Castle, Northumberland; Alnwick Place, Guildford; Syon House, Brentford; and Princetown, S. W., Chairman of Directors of the London Morning Post, left £2,510,000, "so far as can at present be ascertained."

The property comes under the new scale of taxation in Mr. Snowden's Budget, by which estates of £2,000,000 and over pay 50 per cent. in death duties. On this computation death duties will amount to £1,255,000.

Three grants of probate have been sealed: one for the unsettled property of £400,000, "so far as can at present be ascertained" of which the executors are the Duchess of Northumberland, the widow, and Lord William Percy, of Catfield Hall, Great Yarmouth, and Lord Eustace Percy, M.P., of the Old Rectory, Albury, brothers; and two grants for £2,000,000 and £110,000, settled lands, the trustees thereof being Lord Irwin, Viceroy of India, and Lord Eustace Percy.

Provision for Pensions.

The Duke gave £300,000 and his personal chattels to his wife, and also the use of his gold and silver plate and of property passing under the testamentary disposition of his late father; and his guns, horses, hounds, wines, crops, farm stock, hunting and game equipment &c., to the person who succeeds to the title.

The executors are directed to pay the death duties on the jointures of his wife, £8,000 a year, and on the portions already settled on his younger children; and are also empowered to provide for allowances, annuities, pensions, &c., to any past or present employees, and anyone connected with the ducal estate; and to make donations or subscriptions to any charitable, benevolent, social or public objects and institutions.

The residue of the property was bequeathed, on various trusts, for his eldest son.

For this famous musical comedy star, originally discovered by Florenz Ziegfeld himself, "Glorifying the American Girl" emerges as an entertainment in which glittering, tuneful, musical comedy sequences are effectively blended with a delightful story of a girl who dreams of a great Broadway success. There is romance, too, in this picture, of a pattern seldom seen on the screen. The novelty of its treatment makes possible an unusually effective dramatic situation rarely seen in a picture of this type.

Personally supervised by Florenz Ziegfeld himself, "Glorifying the American Girl" emerges as an entertainment in which glittering, tuneful, musical comedy sequences are effectively blended with a delightful story of a girl who dreams of a great Broadway success. There is romance, too, in this picture, of a pattern seldom seen on the screen. The novelty of its treatment makes possible an unusually effective dramatic situation rarely seen in a picture of this type.

Miss Eaton sings a charming number "There Must Be Somebody Waiting For Me," the song hit of the show. Helen Morgan, the famous star of the original "Show Boat" and now currently on view as leading lady in Broadway's most popular musical success, "Sweet Adeline," sings a new song appropriately titled "What Wouldn't I Do For That Man?" Eddie Cantor is featured in a hilarious comedy skit and Rudy Vallee and his Connecticut Yankees play their radio hit, "Vagabond Lover." Others in the cast who contribute good performances are Dan Henly, a prominent Broadway comedian, Olive Shen, a beautiful newcomer to the screen, and Edward Crandall, a recruit from the legitimate stage.

"Glorifying the American Girl," which features several scenes of a Ziegfeld first night photographed in natural colors, will be presented at the Central Theatre on Thursday.

"Pointed Heels."

The patrons at the Central Theatre seemed much pleased with the current offering "Pointed Heels" there yesterday. And well they might, for this production has all the required ingredients of first class entertainment. There is clever acting, interesting plot and much first-rate comedy in it.

William Powell is the suave man-about-town and producer of artistic stage revues who forms the third side of the romance triangle of which Fay Wray and Phillips Holmes are the other components. Miss Wray's the show girl who married Holmes, the youthful song-composer. Their married happiness is almost curdled by the machinations of the urbane Powell, but at the finish the lyric admixture is cleared by a surprise twist in character on the part of Powell, who turns out to be not a villain, but just a devil-may-care all-round character.

"Pointed Heels" is intensely gripping at all times, even when Helen Kane and "Skeets" Gallagher, a new movie song and dance team, are putting over their amusing mummery. One never knows just what turn the fortunes of all will take at each moment of the play—and that is the proof of good entertainment.

Helen Kane sings two great songs in this production. There are some deftly worked out ballet ensembles in the stage sequences which are worth going a long way to see. They were staged by Alberto Rasch and they are a delight to the eye.

THE INDIAN ROUND TABLE MEETING.

FORMAL OPENING BY THE KING TO-MORROW.

London, Nov. 10.

Great interest, not only in Britain and India but throughout the Empire, is being taken in the Indian Round Table Conference, which opens in London this week, and which the King Emperor will inaugurate at noon on Wednesday with a broadcast speech in the Royal Gallery of the House of Lords.

The purpose of the Conference is to seek the "greatest possible measure of agreement for final proposals which it will later be the duty of His Majesty's Government to submit to Parliament."

To attend the Conference there are present 57 representatives of British India and 16 representatives of Indian States, while representatives of the British Parliament drawn from the Labour, Conservative and Liberal ranks number 16. Several high officials, including the Governors of two of Indian Provinces, Sir Malcolm Hailey and Sir Charles Innes, are attending in a consultative capacity.

The Conference will be, in the words of the Viceroy of India, "free to approach its task greatly unimpeded, indeed, but with liberty unimpaired, by the report of the Statutory Commission or by any other document which will be before it." Among these other documents will be a long despatch giving the views of the Government of India on the Statutory Commission's Report, and this as announced in the House of Commons, will be made public.

After the opening ceremony, the Conference will begin its sittings next Monday at St. James's Palace. Meanwhile, informal and preparatory meetings of the Indian States delegation and British Indian delegation, and of various committees, are being held.—British Wireless.

BROADCAST APPEAL.

HON. MR. SHENTON ON EARL HAIG FUND.

Speaking over the radio last night, the Hon. Mr. W. E. L. Shenton said:

"This time last year when I addressed you, on behalf of the Earl Haig British Legion Appeal Fund, in reference to the Poppy Day appeal, I dealt with the historical and symbolical aspect of this great national day of remembrance. This is the day in the year specially set apart for expressions of gratitude and thankfulness, and when every true citizen offers up the prayer 'Give peace in our time, O Lord,' with gratitude to those who made peace possible—'gratitude the fairest blossom which springs from the soul; and the heart of man knoweth none more fragrant'—thankfulness that for a space at least War is no more.

"I gave you a short description of the Earl Haig British Legion Appeal Fund on whose behalf I am again appealing to you tonight. I mentioned the various associations and organisations, which benefit by your contributions, all of whom have as their principal object, the assistance, in the form most needed, of those who by reason of their participation in the Great War require assistance, either themselves, or the dependants they have left behind.

"Jeremy Taylor wrote 'God is pleased with no music below so much as the thanksgiving songs of relieved widows and supported orphans; of rejoicing, comforted and thankful persons.'

"I need not mention these objects again—the Earl Haig British Legion Appeal Fund and the manner of the distribution of its funds are well known to you, but I ask you to make a special effort this year, because as you will appreciate, our remittance is in sterling, consequently owing to the great drop in exchange, our dollar contributions must be far greater than in the past, if we are going to retain our position.

Efforts for Peace.

"To-morrow, twelve years will have passed since Nov. 11, 1918—twelve long years during which the nations of the world have been working to find a formula to make war impossible—Locarno, Geneva, the Pact of Paris and the various disarmament conferences. Should a solution of these great problems be found, the great sacrifices will not have been in vain. As Lord Balfour said, 'Time, I trust, has softened the inevitable misery of separation, but no time can efface the outlines, or dim the writing, which records that their sons or their brothers have earned for themselves, the undying gratitude of those who knew them best.'

"These are those who by fighting, and suffering, and losing their lives, in the greatest of all wars, have given us, and we hope, the world, perpetual peace.

"Twelve years may be a long time in the life of a man, but short in the memory of a nation. Recently when it was thought, owing to a misunderstanding, that no more national wreaths would be laid on the grave of the Unknown Warrior in Westminster Abbey, the British Nation indicated in no uncertain terms, that the Unknown Warrior is not only not forgotten, but a symbol of all who perished in the great cause, by land or sea, and round the remains, all Britain expresses symbolically what is felt with regard to those who sacrificed their lives in the cause of their country.

"It might be thought that since twelve years have passed the need of funds might not be great, but such is not the case, for those who require your help to-day are those who need it most; some have ceased to need your help, but those who are left have suffered most.

"To-morrow is the occasion for a special effort to insure that those who fought and are still with us, and the dependants of those who fell, are not only not forgotten, but are assisted in every possible way.

"Armistice Day has been chosen as Poppy Day or the Day of Remembrance and let no one forget

COMING NANKING CONFERENCE.

HIGH HOPES CENTRED ON THE MEETING.

Shanghai, Nov. 10. High hopes are centred on the coming conference between General Chang Hsueh-liang and Marshal Chiang Kai-shek at Nanking.

Madame and Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, in the company of Mr. H. H. Kung, Minister of Industry and Commerce, returned to the city from Feng Hwa by gunboat this morning. The Nanking official party was entertained at the residence of Mr. H. H. Kung in the evening, and Marshal Chiang accompanied by Messrs. Tai Chi-tao, Li Shih-tseng, Chang Ching-kiang, Chan Ming-shu, C. T. Wang and Admiral Chan Chak of Canton, left for Nanking by special train shortly before midnight.

General Chang Hsueh-liang was entertained at an official banquet last evening by the Chihli Provincial Government at Tientsin. In the course of a speech he said that the Manchurian expedition to Tientsin, which forced the retirement of Marshals Yen Hsi-shan and Feng Yu-hsiang, was carried out with the sole aim of restoring peace in China.

General Chang Hsueh-liang added that he had no recommendations to submit to the Fourth Kuomintang Plenary Session, but he desired to take the opportunity of conferring with Marshal Chiang Kai-shek concerning the disposition of the large contingents of defeated Shensi troops in Shensi. The appointments of Mayors for Peking and Tientsin would also be discussed.

Nanking, Nov. 11. Marshal Chiang Kai-shek arrived from Shanghai at 7 a.m. General Chang Hsueh-liang, whose train is delayed, is arriving at 3 p.m.—Reuter.

BRITAIN'S QUEST FOR THE ATLANTIC RIBAND.

There will be every new device for safety at sea. The most important is the division of the hull into compartments, each watertight so that even in the event of a collision she will be seaworthy. No seasickness?

New principals of construction, which will make her practically without vibration even when she is steaming at full speed, in conjunction with her enormous bulk, which will obviate pitching and rolling in any but the worst weather, should remove fears of seasickness.

She will have every luxury that modern times have to offer—

CASTOR OIL CURE FOR EDITORS.

DR. GOEBBELS' DENIAL OF REPORT.

NEWSPAPER SATIRE.

An amusing controversy is raging in the Berlin press over the report of the speech made by Dr. Goebbels, at a closed meeting of his supporters when he is alleged to have stated that on coming into power he would order his "storming columns," to visit opposition newspaper offices and force each of the editors to drink a quart of castor oil.

Furthermore his legionaries would be given permission to thrash all owners of foreign-made motor cars which would be burned as a warning. The Communists would blow down by shooting six of their most prominent leaders which would be sufficient to deter the rest.

When the report appeared in the press Dr. Goebbels immediately issued a denial, complaining that the sentences had been taken out of their context and disfigured.

The Republican press, however, maintains that the report was absolutely reliable since it was based on stenographic reports made by several independent witnesses. It is also pointed out that similar threats have been made by National Socialist leaders on various occasions during the election campaign and besides were inherently true as being in accordance with the intellectual standard of the National Socialist masses to whom the party had nothing else to offer.

There is, the papers point out, only one thing missing, namely a declaration that those measures would be taken along legal and constitutional lines just as Herr Hitler recently declared before the supreme court in connexion with his threat that on his party's coming to power heads would roll around.

theatres, talkies cinemas, a ballroom, frosted lights, swimming pools, a gymnasium, lifts and streets of shops will be at the disposal of the passengers.

Unless some at present unforeseen development in foreign shipbuilding should occur before she is launched, she will be able easily to outdistance chief foreign rivals, the German Europa and Bremen, the United States Leviathan, and the latest French and Italian liners.

Mr. Graham said that the Government's scheme was a business proposition, designed to secure the construction of one, and he hoped, two very large vessels to maintain Britain's position in the Atlantic trade and to help employment in the shipbuilding industry.

BRITAIN'S TENNIS RANKINGS.

"OUR BETTY" THIRD ON THE WOMEN'S LIST.

London, Nov. 10. H. W. ("Bunny") Austin is ranked as Britain's No. 1 tennis player in the official lawn tennis rankings issued to-day. Although Betty Nuttall won the American Open title, she is ranked third among Britain women players. The first three in each group follow:

Men.

1. H. W. Austin.
2. G. W. Lee.
3. Dr. J. C. Gregory.

Women.

1. Mrs. Holcroft Watson.
2. Miss M. E. Mudford.

DISTRESSED SHIPS SEND OUT S.O.S. CALLS.

San Francisco, Nov. 6. Storms off the coast of California to-day caused several ships to send out S.O.S. calls.

To-night the oil tanker Tamiahua of the Richfield Petroleum Company was aground 50 miles south of the Golden Gate, entrance to San Francisco bay. The Tamiahua is calling for assistance.

Several tugs are rushing to the aid of the distressed tanker.

The Oriental and Oceanic freighter Golden Cross was aground for some time to-day. Finally the vessel succeeded in pulling herself off the rocks after several hours of pounding off Point Reyes.

The Golden Cross made port under her own power. But she will have to be sent into drydock in order that repairs may be effected.
